

The Bulletin

Norwich, Monday, June 28, 1920.

THE WEATHER.

Conditions and General Forecast.
The air pressure is high over the east. No storm of importance appears within the field of observation.

The temperature has risen generally over the northern districts east of the Rocky mountains and temperatures are now normal or above in the interior districts between the Rocky mountains and the Atlantic coast. Fair weather prevailed in most regions.

Winds off Atlantic coast:
North of Sandy Hook—moderate southwest, fair.
Sandy Hook to Hatteras—gentle variable, fair.

Forecast.
New England and east New York: Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, not much change in temperature.

Observations in Norwich.

The following records, reported from the U. S. Weather Bureau, show the changes in temperature and the barometric changes Saturday and Sunday:

Saturday	Bar.	Ther.
6 a. m.	30.00	62.00
12 m.	30.00	62.00
6 p. m.	30.00	62.00
High 80, low 66.
Sunday
6 a. m.	30.00	62.00
12 m.	30.00	62.00
6 p. m.	30.00	62.00
High 80, low 66.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Saturday: Fair.
Saturday's weather: As predicted.
Predictions for Sunday: Fair, mild temperature.
Sunday's weather: As predicted.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES.

(New Time.)

Day	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
25	5:14	8:25	9:00	3:18
26	5:17	8:25	10:24	4:50
27	5:21	8:25	11:53	6:25
28	5:25	8:25	13:21	7:55
29	5:29	8:25	14:51	9:25
30	5:33	8:25	16:21	10:55

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Isadore Millette has moved to the farm he recently purchased on Plain Hill. George Briggs of New Bedford has moved into the house on Front street formerly occupied by Harry Borden.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hinds and son are spending a few days with friends in Vernon, Conn.

If you live in Taftville cut this out and mail it to The Taft-Cadden Co., Norwich, Conn., together with your full name, full address and a check for $1.00. You will receive absolutely free, a book containing 200 old fashioned songs—adv.

Miss Little Lorraine has left town to spend a few weeks in the Adirondacks.

Mrs. Arthur Varley spent a few days in Boston.

Miss Dorothy Varley is in Maine for the summer.

Clarence Harris of Providence is spending a few days in town.

Edward Roy of New London was in Taftville, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bruno and Miss Alice Curran of Occum, Miss Blanche Miller and Miss Lillian O'Brien of Taftville, spent the week-end with Miss May Ring at her cottage at Pleasant View.

William Miller and family motored to Danielson, seeing the home town on down in defeat.

Joseph Dugas spent Sunday at Watch Hill.

Tonight the Lafayette club meets the fast Army and Navy team in a twilight game.

What was a splendid affair, the opening Monday Lafayette plays the Army and Navy team. This game promises to be a hit as both teams have been playing very well.

besides the game scheduled there will be another interesting band concert by the "Duke" Military band and Friday afternoon the Lafayette band will play on the field at 7:30 p. m.

off the postponed game of June 16. A little scouting by the different managers, seems to have resulted in several old timers and young colts who will be seen in action during the coming week and will be watched with interest by those interested.

NORWICH TOWN

Sunday morning, at the First Congregational church, the pastor, Rev. Gordon P. Bailey, preached impressively from the sixth chapter of Acts, sixth verse, "What Will You Do?"

Miss Bernice L. Underwood and Miss Margaret L. Chapin assisted the choir in the singing of hymns.

Many complimentary expressions have been heard in regard to the original essay by Robert L. Bailey, who is now a student at the recent graduation exercises at the West Town street school. The essay which was highly interesting, displayed a boy so young, as he proved himself a confident orator. B. P. Bishop of Norwich, chairman of the school board, who presided at the address, said that after the afternoon, highly commended the boy in his remarks. Master Colby, who is a member of the seventh grade, also received honorable mention for his school work.

Rev. and Mrs. Gordon P. Bailey of Elm avenue, had as dinner guests Friday a motor party from Hartford, including their son Harold Bailey, Judge Crane, Tax Commissioner Blodgett and Dr. Wright. The party was entertained at the party were enroute to the Yale-Harvard race.

Mrs. Harry Vail, her daughter Frances and son Harold Vail of Torrington, and her niece, Jacqueline Nock, who is spending the summer with her relatives, left Saturday to pass a week with Mrs. Vail's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Orefroy, of Mansfield Depot.

Guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Peck, of Orono, who arrived were Mrs. Peck's sister, Miss Annie Smith, of Colechester and Mr. Peck's mother and sister, Mrs. T. D. Peck and Miss May Peck, of Westchester. The trip was made by automobile.

Mrs. Ida Browning returned Friday to her home in Montville, following a stay of five weeks at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Browning, of New London turnpike.

Justine Fellows, who was the first honor pupil in the graduating class at the West Town street school, Miss Fellows has been at the head of her class throughout the spring term.

Miss Addie Heath, who with her mother, Mrs. Susan Heath, has been spending several weeks with relatives in Groton, has been at her home on Elm avenue for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Thelma Marsh of Town street, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Ben-

SPANISH WAR VETS END CONVENTION

The most important item of business at the second day's session of the state encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans held on Saturday was the election and installation of the department officers for the ensuing year. The officers were elected as follows:

Commander—Percy A. Sawtelle, Meriden.
Senior Vice Commander—John B. Quinn, Stamford.
Junior Vice Commander—Charles N. Burdick, Norwich.
Surgeon—John S. Blackman, Norwich.
Chaplain—Charles L. Dunley, New Haven.
Marshal—James R. Veitch, South Manchester.

Trustee World War Veteran Relief Fund—For fourth district for five years, Benjamin Stewart, Bridgeport.

There being two nominations for the department surgeon, a ballot was taken. Maj. John S. Blackman was elected over Maj. G. M. Warren of Norwalk, who received the support of the majority.

The nominating committee reported four names as delegates to the national convention in St. Louis. They are Fred L. Clark, P. W. Stenck, William H. Reeves and John G. Lobinski. The delegates were elected and given power to choose their own alternates.

The installation of the newly elected officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

The installation of the new officers was the closing feature of the session. Past Department Commander Frank P. Benton of Williamstown, the installing officer, and Past Department Commander Martin Laubacher of Rockville were master of ceremonies.

can in thought rise and follow the character of God for thought has not merely the freedom of a city but of a universe. He leads them to living fountains.

And then Revelation allows us to forecast the future; to unravel the yet unknown folds of the coming life. We do not know all but we know Him who carries the key to an infinite realm and we shall follow the guiding light which He holds in His hand. Then the philosophers tell us that large and suggestive truth that the mind is the instrument on which the great masters press and express their great harmonies that ring through their master minds. Socrates thought he was only the instrument of the Diamond or guarding spirit. Men of genius have said they only wrote what was forced into their minds and through them. What if a great thinker is in such touch with us that he presses his own thought through us. Truly we are fearfully and wonderfully made.

There are for thought control or thought inspiration some simple rules.

1. The law of exclusion unto which a thousand subjects of thought should be excluded; forcing the mind on to high thoughts that lead to the crippling of our thought apparatus and certainly end in moral disaster. By sheer force of will exclude; forcing the mind on to high thoughts that lead to the crippling of our thought apparatus and certainly end in moral disaster.

2. Concentrate. Specialization is of first importance. Make right thinking a business. Think of "these things"; the things that bring uplift. Heaven's appeal for attention or wise orientation is as incessant as it is exhaustive. We come here to this church service to think of the Highest, to get above the murky and fog into the infinite ether to remind ourselves that God lives and rules and never abdicates for all the noisy uproar of the world.

3. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

4. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

5. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

6. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

7. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

8. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

9. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

10. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

11. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

12. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

13. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

14. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

15. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

16. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

17. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

18. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

19. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

20. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

21. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

22. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

23. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

24. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

25. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

26. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

27. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

28. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

29. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

30. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

31. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

32. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

33. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

34. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

35. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

36. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

37. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

38. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

39. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

40. Then the rule of reiteration. Habits of thought are formed by repeated action. We need to repeat thought processes; dig deep grooves that cannot be obliterated. Masterlinck says "no noble thoughts pass across the heart like great white birds" but they are shy visitors.

POETRY

ENLIGHTENMENT.

Sparkling gleams of moonlight
Shimmering from the trees.
Glancing over the shadows
Singing the leaves—
Murmuring in a shaded glade
Where the fitting fireflies
Lovers' secrets tell.

Sailing thro' the mist-veil
Of the dewy night
Rides each dainty fairy
On the moonbeam's trail.
All the moonbeam's call
With the crickets' call
And the high-note
Trills with flute-like echoes
Thro' the woodland hall.

Katydid and locusts
Fiddle on their wings.
Every voice of nature
Tells the forest sings:
Hither croak the tree-frogs,
And the high-note
Trills with flute-like echoes
Thro' the woodland hall.

Fairies clad in robes
Star-dust in their hair,
Dance with the forest winds
Tripping here and there.
Kissing dewdrops bluebell,
Walking on the grass,
As they blithely frolic
Thro' the wee, wee, hours.

"Tis a night of wonder
And a night of delight
For the gnomes and fairies,
And each airy sprite:
Till the breaking of dawn
When the fading moonbeams
And the high-note
Trills with flute-like echoes
Thro' the woodland hall.

—Evelyn Hay Colbeck, in Charleston (S. C.) News.

NEIGHBORS VINE.

The roses red upon my neighbor's vine
Are owned by him, but they are also mine.
His was the root, and his the labor, too;
But mine as well as his the joy, the love, the bloom.

They bloom for me, and are for me as fair
As for the man who gives them all his care.
Thus am I rich, because a good man
A rose-red vine for all his neighbors' view.

—The Farm Journal.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"A New York judge has ruled that love is insanity."

"